Delonte West's selection by the Boston Celtics in 2004 gave the Hawks two first-round picks in the same year, marking a first for the Saint Joseph's program. After three years with Boston, he was traded to Seattle following the 2007 season.

Mike Bantom is one of five Hawks to be chosen in the first round of the NBA Draft. Bantom was drafted by the Phoenix Suns, but eventually played for the Philadelphia 76ers. He is currently the NBA's senior vice president for player development.

The Hawk has traveled all over the country and been at every game for 50 years, including all postseason tournaments.

Jim Brennan, Class of '58, is the originator of the Hawk mascot. He developed the idea and costume, which has existed for 50 years. Brennan made his debut as the Hawk on January 4, 1956 at the Palestra and served as the mascot for three seasons.

Sarah Brennan (no relation to Jim) is the only woman to serve as The Hawk in the 50-year history. She was the mascot in 2000-01.

Every year SJU brings together the former Hawks and recognizes them at a game. Al Pastino, seen at a recent event, was one of five students to serve as the Hawk for three seasons (1961-64). He is currently a University Trustee and the chair of the Hawk Athletic Fund.

THE HAWK WILL NEVER DIE!

THE PERFECT SEASON

Nearly every day was "media day" for the Saint Joseph's Hawks in 2003-04 as the season of a lifetime was well-documented nationally. People from coast to coast could sense there was something special about the team and the Hawks were besieged everywhere by autograph seekers and well-wishers. A game with St. Joe's became the hottest ticket in town as the Hawks sold out seven of their last eight road games. Admire all the hoopla, the Hawks never lost their focus and gave the University and college basketball a memorable season.

St. Joe's gets it right

It's amazing how fast the news of the Hawks' success has spread. In just a few weeks, the Hawks have become a household name. The only reason for this is the Hawks' success. The Hawks have become a household name. The Hawks have become a household name.

Coach Martelli is the key to the Hawks' success. He has led the team to a national title. He has led the team to a national title.

There's a buzz at St. Joe's

Small campus in Philadelphia in a frenzy over their Hawks

PHILADELPHIA — As two students traded through St. Joe's' "wild" campus the other day, one turned to the other with a simple question: "Was it something back whether Jameer Nelson would be able to break down Wake Forest's semester defense of the Arby's one Thursday? Was it about the Hawks' win of a dominant title since? Did the Hawks' Compton about the way college basketball experts have looked down their noses at the Atlantic 10? Did it exactly "They speak modern in Twitter" the student wondered.

Okay, so maybe everyone on Hawk Hill isn't talking basketball. But even those who don't basketball to be more like the name have been caught up in the excitement of the Little School That Might, the university of 3,500 full-time undergraduates that has hopes of a national title.

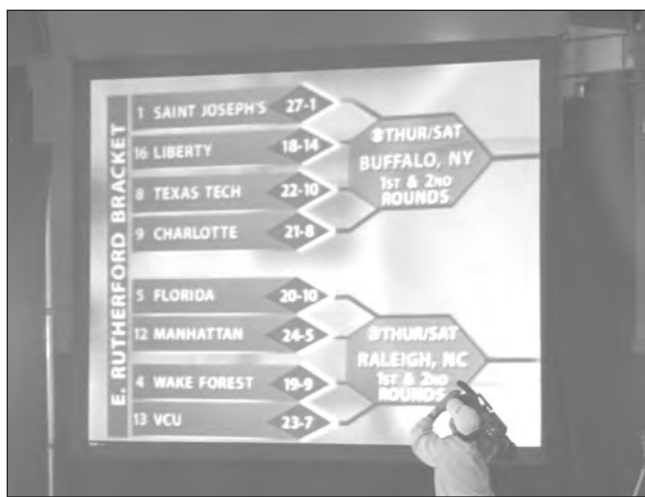

"We've had some great wins, a great talking about it." You like your campus to be talking about it? "It all like time. Whatever the "It. It happens to now in their basketball, and it's wonderful to see.

"People that don't even follow basketball — faculty and staff who aren't into this — walk by and say, 'Isn't this wonderful?'"

Everyone but the few Far Eastern language enthusiasts, it seems, is caught up in the frenzy, especially with St. Joe's game against Wake Forest at Colonial Athletic Arena just a day away. The Hawks
